

Stadler

Peter Stadler has been promoted to vice president of Meridian Design Build, responsible for overseeing the design and construction process and the development of new projects.