Meridian To Construct New Warehouse

Scannell Properties selected Meridian Design Build to design and construct a 219,858-square-foot automated package sorting and distribution center in Chicago for a leading provider of global shipping and information services.

The high profile development will feature more than 3,000 square feet of expressway frontage along the north side of I-55 at South Damen Avenue.

The main building design will include 61 loading docks, 156 interior van loading positions and 8,153 square feet of office space. Cornerstone Architects will provide architectural services and civil engineering will be completed by Spaceco. Inc.
