

Area News

Meridian Design Build has completed construction of a 12,500-sq.-ft. corporate office renovation for Highland Baking Co. at their headquarters in Northbrook. The project includes private offices, sales area, updated restrooms, conference rooms, and an employee lunch room area. Key project infrastructure improvements included installation of an ultra-high efficiency boiler, a new high-efficiency rooftop units, and an updated plumbing systems. Special security features were also incorporated. Coordinating the project on behalf of Meridian Design Build was Joe Blanchard, project manager and Fred Jennings, general superintendent. The architect for the renovation was A+M Architects.