Meridian Completes Hyatt Place Hotel in Kentucky

Meridian Design Build's National Projects Group recently completed construction on a 72,500 SF Hyatt Place hotel in Bowling Green, Kentucky. The four-story hotel, located adjacent to Western Kentucky University's Augenstein Alumni Center, includes 108 rooms, an outdoor pool, a fitness center and meeting rooms.

Meridian designed and built the hotel to incorporate environmentally friendly features, including LED lighting and low emissivity windows. Carpets, paints, and adhesives with low levels of volatile organic compounds were also used throughout the hotel's interior.

Architectural services were provided by Adkisson & Associates Architects, Inc. and civil engineering work was completed by Arnold Consulting Engineering Services, Inc.
